

Northern Norway - A Family Adventure in Tromsø And Sommarøy

HOLIDAY TYPE: Small Group
VISITING: Norway

BROCHURE CODE: 1703
DURATION: 4 nights

In Brief

This trip to Norway includes two contrasting destinations that make for a fantastically varied family holiday. Spending two nights in the city of Tromsø, with two nights on the island of Sommarøy in between, you will find yourselves on an array of adventures. These include speeding over the snow on a husky sleigh ride, venturing out by boat in search of whales and marine wildlife, and hunting for the Northern Lights at a remote reindeer farm.

Our Opinion

“ After having such a great time in Finland the previous year, my family insisted on repeating the winter holiday experience, but they wanted to visit somewhere a little different. This trip combined everything we could have wanted, as you still get to do the most popular activities like the huskies and the reindeer, but you also get to experience things like the city tour in Tromsø and a wildlife-watching safari in Sommarøy. We were also lucky enough to see the Northern Lights on the last night which was an amazing end to the trip. ”

Trip Overview

This holiday segues two nights in bustling Tromsø, with two nights on the remote and beautiful island of Sommarøy, creating the prefect mix for a family winter holiday in Norway.

Tromsø is a very family-friendly city, everything is easy to reach and there is a lot to keep the whole family happy. Polaria, for example, is an incredible Arctic aquarium which offers an interactive way to explore the natural world. We include entry to Polaria in the holiday as it is just such a fabulous family destination; no family holiday is complete without getting up close to a bearded seal is it?

From Tromsø you will then be transferred to the island of Sommarøy for two nights, getting you out into the Norwegian countryside for a taste of The Great Outdoors and some amazing wildlife encounters. Sommarøy will give your family the chance to witness the stunning scenery of Norway and even children are impressed by the landscape here.

This holiday has been designed to provide the most memorable experiences for your family and in Norway, animals and nature play a huge role in this. Your holiday includes encounters with huskies on two occasions, as well as the chance for you to go on a wildlife boat trip in search of seals, birds and maybe even whales.

Of course, this region is renowned for its Northern Lights displays, and so we have included some family-friendly Aurora activities. You will visit a husky centre near Tromsø to meet the dogs and puppies, before an Aurora Camp visit. You will take part in an Aurora watch on Sommarøy and, to end the holiday, you will enjoy a visit to a traditional reindeer herder's camp, deep in the Aurora Zone.

Most of these activities also include time for snuggling up around a warming fire with your family and keeping an eye on the skies, hot drink in hand. With any luck, the dazzling Aurora Borealis will light up the night and add some extra magic to your trip. If not, it's still an amazing way to spend time together as a family.

Agenda

Please note the order of activities is subject to change

DAY

ARRIVAL AND AURORA HUSKY VISIT

Once you arrive at Tromsø Airport, you will be transferred to your hotel. This is only around a twenty-minute journey, so it won't be long before you can check into your hotel and start your holiday in earnest.

We get things started straight away and so tonight, you will enjoy an evening of cuddling huskies, a delicious dinner and, hopefully, the spectacular Northern Lights.

You will head to a meeting point in downtown Tromsø (no more than a 5-minute walk away) in order to be picked up for your transfer to the husky yard, which is around 30 minutes away. The pups will be awaiting your arrival and will be more than ready for some time to play after a hard day's work. After receiving your warm clothes, you will then have time to stroke, cuddle and play with the huskies. This will also be a perfect opportunity to take some family photos with your new furry friends.

Once you have had your fill of the adorable dogs, you will be taken to an Aurora Camp, which is positioned at a perfect Northern Lights viewpoint. Here, you can keep warm around a fire and a hearty dinner will be served as you keep watch on the sky for a potential Aurora display. This is an exceptional way to kick-start your holiday.

This activity will last around four hours in total.

Included Meals: Dinner

HUSKY SLED RIDE AND REINDEER CAMP DINNER WITH NORTHERN LIGHTS

Today, you will have your first breakfast in Tromsø, before heading back to the huskies.

This time, the huskies will be much more excitable as they'll know that you are here to take them out with the sleds, their favourite pastime. After a full safety briefing, you will set off with your expert guide driving the sled, giving you the chance to sit back and enjoy the views of the mountains and sea.

The dogs always make a lot of noise before they set off as they are so eager to get going, but as soon as the sled is moving they fall silent and focus on what they are doing. At first, it always feels like they are travelling quickly but they soon settle down into a happy rhythm and you'll relax and enjoy the ride. You will be sledding for approximately 45-60 minutes and, upon your return, you will enjoy a warm lunch in a traditional Norwegian Gamme hut, around a crackling campfire.

Tonight you will visit a reindeer camp dinner with Northern Lights watch!

You will transfer out into the countryside to a local reindeer farm, where you will be greeted by a Sámi guide (the Sámi are the indigenous people of Lapland). After pulling on your winter suit and being given an introduction to the life of the herders and their animals you will have the chance to feed them.

You will then be invited inside the Gamme (a Sámi hut) to warm up by the fire and enjoy a traditional three-course Sámi meal.

Following your dinner, you will be invited to a Lavu (Sámi tent) to gather around the fire and listen to stories about the culture and life as a herder. Your guide will also perform a traditional song, called a joik, as you wait in hopes for a Northern Lights display. You will be out for approximately 4 hours tonight, including transfers.

Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner

TROMSØ CITY TOUR, POLARIA ARCTIC AQUARIUM AND SOMMARØY

This morning, after breakfast, your guide will meet you for a fun guided tour of Tromsø. There is so much to see in this small city, but all of the key areas can be reached on foot. The tour will be tailored to keep the children entertained and as it is private to your family, you can ask your guide to focus on your family's interests. The activity will last around three hours in total.

After the tour you will have time to visit the Polaria Arctic Aquarium as the entrance fee is included in your holiday. This interactive visitor centre is extremely popular with families, as you can admire Arctic sea life up close. There are also films and displays which provide an interactive insight into the Arctic's natural wonders.

Then, you will have the chance to grab a quick lunch at a café or restaurant in Tromsø before you will be transferred to Sommarøy for the next part of your adventure.

The road to Sommarøy is spectacular and the journey lasts between 1.5 and 2 hours approximately. Your family will check into their apartment on arrival and can soak in the sea views and the mountains in the distance.

A delicious dinner will be served in the hotel's main restaurant, where all ingredients are based on traditions of the local area (don't worry, children can be well catered for – please let us know of any dietary requirements at the time of booking).

Included Meals: Breakfast, Dinner

WILDLIFE BOAT TRIP AND NORTHERN LIGHTS PARK

This morning, an incredible adventure awaits as you will head out onto the sea for a wildlife boat trip! After stepping into your cold weather clothing, you will receive a full safety briefing. You will then board a small vessel that holds a maximum of 20 passengers, and will set sail for prime wildlife-watching spots.

From November until mid to late January, there may be an opportunity to spot whales as they follow the herring shoals into the Atlantic Ocean. Although it is not guaranteed, Sommarøy is known to attract high numbers of orca, humpback and fin whales. Witnessing these gigantic mammals in their natural environment is quite a staggering sight.

In addition to whales, there is plenty more to watch out for on this excursion, including wonderful white-tailed eagles, sea otters, porpoises, puffins and adorable seals. The abundant marine and birdlife are amazing, but at any time of year, the views are beyond spectacular. This activity is around 2-3 hours in duration.

After lunch back at the hotel, the afternoon is yours to enjoy your surroundings and tailor your time. Why not wrap up warm and take a walk around the local area; it's fascinating for families to see what life is like in this remote corner of Europe. Or, return to your cosy accommodation and just spend time as a family.

After dinner, you will head out on a visit to the Northern Lights Park. The park is a short walk from the hotel and there are several features, which have been hand-built by a local islander; it is perfectly situated to search the dark skies above for the Aurora.
